

I am deeply disturbed by the biased news reporting by the media in the U.S. Reporters no longer have the freedom they once had. Wealthy owners of newspapers and news services restrict viewpoints to their own beliefs. The proposed rules changes by the FCC to loosen the rules that prevent a monopoly of who owns our sources of news will erode the ability of citizens to get reporting from all sides of an issue. I am terribly distressed by the atmosphere in our nation that is leading us closer to a totalitarian state where opposing views are punished.
